The Crystal

A.D. MCMCLXIV

L.H.S. 70

Volume 39

Published By The Students of
Lexington High School
Lexington, Virginia

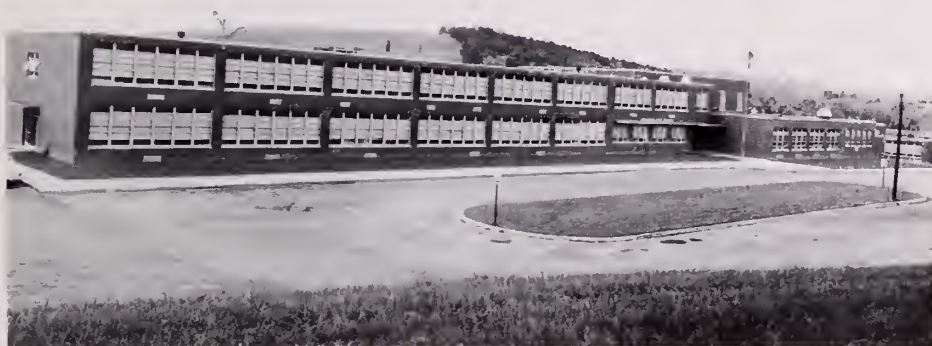

As a crystal ball reveals the past, present, and future to all who gaze into it, the 1964 CRYSTAL relates the yesterdays, todays, and tomorrows of Lexington High School. A crystal ball captures all phases of existence; life at L.H.S. similarly encompasses all facets of school curriculum. This wide range of activities offers opportunities for learning not only in the classroom but in relations with others. These experiences we gain at Lexington High School will always remain with us and will serve as a foundation for our future.

Lexington High School represents not only the brick building that consolidated Effinger High and the former Lexington High or the 595 students and well-qualified faculty, but the total image—the spirit that has grown each year...the increased participation in all activities...the growth in the general closeness of all students.

PROPOSED ADDITIONS TO LEXINGTON HIGH SCHOOL

We remember the quiet of classrooms during a test...the traffic on the by-pass...the headlong rush to lunch...the dash to beat the bell to homeroom...the sulfur odor from chemistry lab...the irrespressable thrill after a touchdown...the tingling excitement before Christmas vacation...the weary yawns and blank stares before exams...the slam of a locker door...the final silence of the graduation ceremony.

These are the memories that will go with us. It is our sincere wish that each student, by upholding the traditions of L. H. S. will strive to better himself and his school.

And so, it is to you, the STUDENTS of Lexington High School, that we, the class of nineteen hundred and sixty-four dedicate our CRYSTAL.

Senior History

The class of 1964 includes seventy-nine members. Ours is a unique group, a product of a situation which will never exist again. There are two reasons that our class is unlike any other, past or future: first, we are the first seniors to graduate after having spent four full years at the new Lexington High School; second, we are the last class to include members who attended Effinger or the old Lexington High School in the eighth grade. With reference to our four real high school years completed in the new school, we may be called the first true graduating class of Lexington High School.

In our first year as a class we elected Shirley Fix to represent us on the Executive Committee and Jenny Johnson for the Honor Court. As sophomores we chose Bill Gaines as president and Shirley Fix, secretary-treasurer. Chris Bosworth represented us on the Honor Court. The following year two of our number won places as student body officers; Bill Gaines became vice-president and Betsy Letcher, secretary-treasurer. We chose Chris Bosworth class president with the important duties of leading us in plans for the Christmas Dance and the traditional Junior-Senior Prom. Jimmy Whitehead kept us posted on our finances as secretary-treasurer. Susan Brush and Betty Kirk McHenry represented the class on the Honor Court, with Betty Kirk serving as secretary.

The class of 1964, in September of our senior year, elected Mike Claytor president and Bill Gaines secretary-treasurer. Susan Brush, Betty Kirk McHenry and Drew Lindsay filled the senior places on the Honor Court, with Betty Kirk serving as chairman of this group. Our class also had two student body officers, Jimmy Whitehead as president and Nelle McLaughlin as secretary.

November witnessed the well-attended Homecoming Dance, sponsored by the seniors, at which Susan Brush was crowned Homecoming Queen. Music was provided by the Swingmasters. After much discussion, the class decided to employ its accumulated funds to finance a trip to Richmond in February in order to observe the General Assembly in session.

Several of our members this year were recognized for notable accomplishments: Chester Burgess and Bill Gaines were named National Merit Finalist Scholars, while Betsy Letcher, Elaine Batchelder, Rosemarie Benedict, Shirley Fix and Dee Joyce received National Merit Certificates of Commendation; Betsy Letcher, for excellence in English, was awarded a certificate by the National Council of Teachers of English; Shirley Fix won the Betty Crocker Homemaker Award. Jimmy Whitehead and Drew Lindsay were representatives to Boys' State while Mary Mana Deaver, Betty Dobyns and Betty Lou Glick attended Girls' State. Throughout their high school careers, members of the class of '64 have compiled a record of numerous and varied awards, honors and citations.

Upon graduation, some of us will enter immediately the worlds of business or domestic life, while others continue education in colleges. It is here that our paths will diverge, never to meet again. The course of time will draw us further apart, each along his chosen way. Yet there is one unity that will abide, one connection that time will not sunder—the class. We are the class, we shall always be the class, and therein we are bound one to another, in a kinship that will not dissolve. We have traveled a good road together.

Underclass Officers

The Junior class officers: LINDA DAVIS, secretary-treasurer and GAIL ROBINSON, President.

JOHN ATTHOWE, secretary-treasurer and ERIC ANDERSON, president, serve as Sophomore officers.

The Freshmen elected RITA CLAYTOR, secretary-treasurer, and DAVID ELLINGTON, president

CHIP MILLER, president and KATHY HILLS, secretary-treasurer, represent the eighth graders.

Activities

President Jimmy Whitehead presides over meeting of Executive Council.

The Executive Council works on the revision of the school constitution.

Seated: David Ellington, Mike Claytor, Nelle McLaughlin, Jimmy Whitehead, Brud Waddell, Gail Robinson,

Mr. Johnson, faculty advisor. Standing: Eric Anderson and Chip Miller.

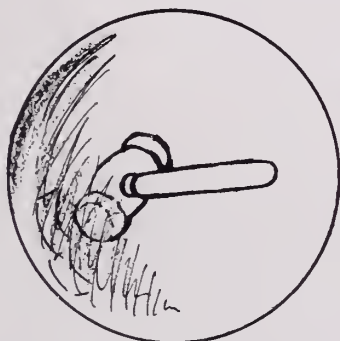

Honor Court

During this school year the Honor Court tried to maintain the high standards of the honor system. Mr. Donald Miller, assistant principal at L.H.S., was the faculty advisor.

As in past years all proceedings of the Honor Court were kept secret. All cases were reported only to the principal and to parents of the students involved.

One duty of the Honor Court this year was to aid the Executive Committee in revising the Constitution. Members improved portions of the Constitution pertaining to the Honor System.

Officers elected for 1963-64 were: Betty Kirk McHenry, Chairman; Christine Capito, Secretary; Drew Lindsay, Sergeant-at-Arms, Chris Brothers, Bailiff.

Honor Court members plan for future assembly program.

Honor Court officers Betty Kirk McHenry and Christine Capito consult.

Seated: Mike Leary, Christine Capito, Betty Kirk McHenry, Susan Brush, Sterling Moore. Standing: Rusty

Ford, Drew Lindsay, Chris Brothers, and Mr. Miller, Faculty Advisor.

BETTY KIRK McHENRY

The editors of the CRYSTAL are chosen in early spring for work on the following year's yearbook. They attend the week-end SIPA conferences at Washington and Lee in April to participate in the Journalism seminars.

This year's editors, Susan Brush, Carter Stubbs and Betty Kirk McHenry, were placed in charge of the annual magazine drive, during which funds were raised for the book. They also chose a staff of six juniors who were to assist in editing the annual and from whose ranks the editors of next year's book were to be selected. Typists and copywriters assisted in meeting the deadline.

Scarletter

BETSY LETCHER
Editor-in-Chief

The Scarletter is the Lexington High School newspaper, published six times a year by a student editorial staff. The paper is financed solely through subscriptions and advertisements from local merchants. Mrs. Wolfe and Mrs. Hayslette were faculty advisors for the 1963-64 Scarletter.

Under Betsy Letcher as editor-in-chief, the following staff was chosen for the year: Bill Gaines, assistant editor; Christine Capito, news editor; Martha Johnson, feature editor; and Chet Burgess, sports editor. Rommie Head and Jimmy Whitehead were photographers, and Kendall Jamison was business manager.

The Scarletter is a member in good standing of the Southern Interscholastic Press Association. Each spring the editors-elect attend the convention of this association.

Feature Writers:

Seated: Dee Joyce, Shirley Fix, Carol Taylor, Janice Tolley, Sue Wilson, Elaine Batchelder, Melinda Matthews, Kendall Jamison. Standing: Jeffry Peters, Jimmy Pickral, Rob Goolrick, Donald Tabbott.

Senior editors Martha Johnson, Bill Gaines and Chet Burgess discuss make-up.

N.H.S. Members Coach Students

Second row: Sue Mutespaugh, Bill Gaines, Jimmy Whitehead, Jimmy Pickral, Jimmy Bowen, Chris Brothers, Bobby Weaver, Drew Lindsay, Larry Irvine, Gail Robinson. Third row:

Officers Carter Stubbs, Martha Johnson, and Charlotte Wilson consult with Miss Morrison about plans for the N.H.S. banquet.

The National Honor Society is composed of juniors and seniors possessing the four qualities of scholarship, leadership, character, and service. All members must maintain an average of at least 90. Each year those sophomores exemplifying these qualities are tapped as probationary members and at the end of the first semester of their junior year, become full fledged members.

With the aid of Miss Gertrude Morrison, who is the faculty advisor of the honor society, members operate the Guidance Room, in which are found college pamphlets, bulletins, and yearbooks, scholarship information and vocational materials. Coaching by members is also available to those students who desire it. The other major activities of the N.H.S. are the annual Twirp Week and Sadie Hawkins Dance held in the spring and the banquet for members.

Officers this year were President: Carter Stubbs, Vice-President: Martha Johnson, and Secretary-Treasurer: Charlotte Wilson.

Guidance workers: Martha Johnson, Sheila Fix, Rosemarie Benedict, Nelle McLaughlin, Brenda Agnor, Christine Capito, Missy Atthowe, Bill Gaines.

C.P.H.S. Inducts New Members

Chemistry-Physics Honor Society members Champe Leary, Shirley Fix, Linda Brown, and Sheila Fix perform experiment in the lab.

The Chemistry-Physics Honor Society recognizes those students who excel in chemistry and physics. The membership requirements are that the student acquire a "90" average in either of the two subjects during the first semester, and to insure permanent membership, maintain this average throughout the second semester.

The club holds three meetings a year, one in October, February, and May. The purpose of the February meeting is to welcome new members to the club.

The C. P. H. S. was organized in 1949 by Miss Elizabeth Dunlap, who is still the sponsor. The elected officers for 1963-64 were Dee Joyce, President; and Cheryl Lackey, secretary-treasurer.

Officers Cheryl Lackey, secretary-treasurer, Dee Joyce, president.

Library and Literary Clubs

The Library Club is a service club open to all students in grades nine through twelve who are interested in the library and are willing to give their time to work there. Members served as student librarians and helped file magazines, read shelves, catalogue books, shelve books, and prepare bulletin boards displays. Programs of various types were presented at the meetings.

The Club was divided into two sections which met during the Activity Periods. Section presidents were Bonnie Mays and Ann Claytor; vice-presidents were Leslie Barger and Susan Mahoney; secretary-treasurers were John Ax and Betty Stuart Lackey. The faculty advisor was Mrs. McHenry, school librarian.

Promote Better Reading Among Students

Kathleen McKenna and Shirley Fix count votes on monthly book selection.

Mrs. Ennis leads a discussion on The Razor's Edge.

Again this year the Literary Club continued to encourage the reading and appreciation of good literature. Open to all interested students at Lexington High School, the club greatly expanded its membership in this, its second year. At each meeting, various books are suggested for reading; in the following week the club members vote on the proposed books. During the following month all the club members read the chosen book, and in the next meeting the book is discussed. Catch-22 by Joseph Heller and The Razor's Edge by Somerset Maugham were some of the books read by the club members this year.

The sponsor of the Literary Club was Mrs. Ennis. This year Shirley Fix was the president of the club and Kathleen McKenna, the secretary-treasurer.

Forensic and Teenactors Plan for

Seated: Molly Gilliam, Robert Williamson, Kathleen McKenna, Elaine Batchelder, Charlotte Tolley, Rusty Ford, Rick Watson. Second row: Joyce Hickman, Mary Susan Dobyms, Anne

Becht, H. C. Green, Margaret Gentry, Linda Carter, Martha Goodman, Leslie Barger, Mrs. Newman.

President Elaine Batchelder previews plans for the next meeting.

The Forensic Club helps students develop their abilities for reading and speaking in public. The club, which is open to eighth graders, experienced an increase in membership this year. The meetings centered around learning to speak with confidence before a group. Members gave extemporaneous speeches, prepared speeches, prose readings, and poetry readings.

The officers this year were Elaine Batchelder, president, and Charlotte Tolley, secretary-treasurer. The sponsor was Mrs. Newman.

Member Anne Becht gives speech during meeting.

State and District Meets

First row: Linda E. Brown, Lois Weade, Cheryl Lackey, Mrs. Dickens, Bill Gaines, Betsy Letcher, Rob Goolrick, Sue Sensabaugh, Dee Joyce, Betty Dobyns. Second row: Diana Pusey, Linda Levitch, Sue Mutispaugh, Jeannie Sheridan, Christine Capito, Kendall Jamison, Cammy Martin, Pat McDonough, Ann Simpson, Lee Wright, Sue Wilson, Penny Chapell, Ginky McLaughlin. Fifth row: Champe Leary, Shirley Fix, Susan Brush, Carol Taylor, Karen Dean, Kathy Slusser, Skip Chapel, Ricky Brown

The Lexington High Dramatics Club, the "Teenactors," met during fourth Wednesdays this year. Mrs. Dickens, the club sponsor, planned a presentation of Stephen Vincent Benet's "The Devil and Daniel Webster" for early spring, followed by a one-act play to be presented in the District Play Festival.

Officers of the 1963-64 club were Betsy Letcher, president; Bill Gaines, Secretary; and Rob Goolrick, treasurer. Programs for the year included scenes presented by freshmen and sophomore members, exercises in pantomime and improvisation, and lectures.

Robbie Goolrick demonstrates value of expression in reading during meeting.

Chet Burgess, Janice Tolley and Bill Gaines rehearse for "The Devil and Daniel Webster."

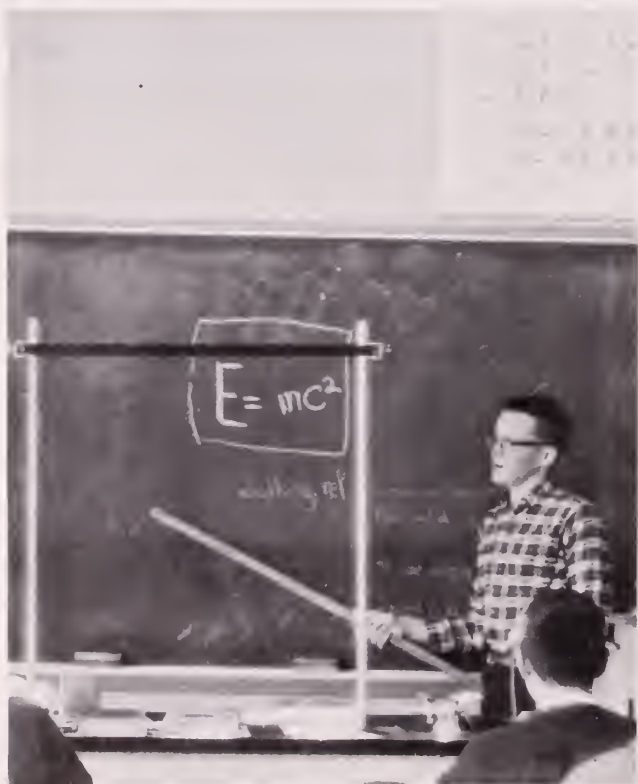

Mrs. Dickens picks out one-act play for district festival.

Math Club Probes Mysteries of Relativity

Seated: Carol Taylor, Kathy Smart, Chris Brothers, Sterling Moore, Mr. Lindsay, Jimmy Pickral. Standing: Mickey Cochrane, Jimmy Littlepage, Raymond Siso, Harold Plott, Larry Whiteside, Chuck Barger, Jimmy

Johnson, Henry Howard, John Athowe, David Peters, Richard Wise, Larry Irvine, Hamilton Greene, Sandy Dotson, Bobby Pickral, James Bennetch, Chet Burgess, Frank Huger, Bobby Weaver, James Bowen.

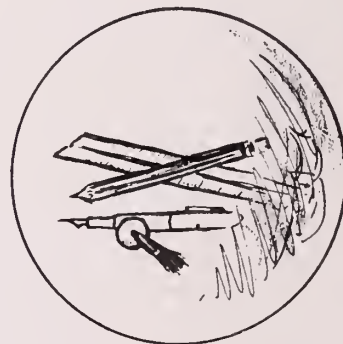

Jimmy Pickral leads a discussion on relativity.

The Math Club, established last year, is open to all students, including eighth graders. Its purpose is to foster an interest in math.

The club tries to cover the different areas of math which are of interest to its members. These included the sliderule, logarithms, magic squares, and relativity.

The officers were: Chris Brothers, President; Sterling Moore, Vice-President; and Kathy Smart, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Lindsay was the sponsor.

Science Club Plans For Science Fair

John Ritz and John Atthowe assist Mark Reigle with his experiment.

Organized quite a number of years ago by Mr. Kenneth Thompson, the Science Club of Lexington High School has, of necessity, changed a great deal in subject matter. Despite this gradual change through the years, the main purpose for beginning the club has remained the same. The purpose of the club is to keep posted on the latest advances in the varied fields of science as well as to discuss past discoveries and developments.

The programs consisted of projects and demonstrations by individual members. At times they had guest speakers and at least once a year visited a science department at V.M.I. or W & L. This year plans were made for a science fair to supplement the annual science assembly program.

Officers Jimmy Pickral, Drew Lindsay, and Chris Brothers lead program.

Kneeling: Chuck Barger, James Littlepage, Sterling Moore, Freddy Feddeman, Mark Reigle, Charles Bennetch, Randy Watson, Tommy Hickman. Second row: Mr. Potter, John Robinson, Marty Harper, Raymond Siso, Philip Robbs, Jimmy Pickral, Drew Lindsay, Chris Brothers,

Latin Club Includes Eighth Graders

Third year students Bobby Weaver and Patsy Swisher wear Roman costumes for Latin Club program.

In the Latin Club students learn about the many phases of Roman life. This year the three sections chose the following mottoes and officers: Section I-Ut Scientiam Promoveamus, That We Might Increase Our Knowledge: Rusty Ford was president and Tommy Pickral, Secretary-treasurer; Section II-Post Laborem Praemium, After Work, Reward: the president was Larry Smith, Secretary-treasurer, Wilma Moore; Section III-Scientia Omnes Ianvas Aperit, Knowledge Opens All Doors; Monty Brothers was president, Susan Wise, secretary-treasurer.

Hi-Y Holds School Betterment Discussion

President Norma Cronk completes business of meeting.

Patsy Swisher presides over school-betterment assembly.

The Co-ed Hi-Y is a world service organization associated with the Y.M.C.A.

This year the Co-ed Hi-Y carried out several school service projects. In October a panel discussion on School Betterment was held during an assembly program. The panel was composed of students and faculty members chosen to represent all phases of school life. The Co-ed Hi-Y also sponsored assembly devotions and a Christmas showcase.

Plans were made to send a representative to Model General Assembly in the spring.

Seated: Charlotte Wilson, Rosemarie Benedict, Patsy Swisher, Norma Cronk, Elaine Scott, Brenda Agnor, Betty Lou Glick, Paul Richards. Standing: Debbie Leslie

Evalina Irvine, Darlene Buchanan, Sandra Ayers, Carol Black, James Carter, Susan Hall, Sharon Lindsay, Jo Ravenhorst, Ruth Lynch.

F.T.A. and D.E. Help

Officers Missy Atthowe and Charlotte Tolley confer with Mrs. Moore.

The FTA, a new club at LHS, is open to anyone interested in becoming a teacher. Its purpose is to let those students experience actual classroom situations and decide if teaching is the career for them.

Membership this year was twenty-two. Officers were Charlotte Tolley, president; Missy Atthowe, vice-president; Jo Ravenhorst, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Moore was the sponsor.

Some activities included guest speakers, decorating bulletin boards, special National Education Week observance, and part-time work with teachers for senior members during the second semester.

Seated: Sue Sensabaugh, Loraine Levitch, Celestia Dillard, Missy Atthowe, Charlotte Tolley, Jo Ravenhorst, Mrs. Moore, Linda Turpin, Lee Wright. Standing: Debbie Leslie, Kathy Slusser, Dayle Grumbles, Champe Leary,

Students Plan For Careers

The Distributive Education Club consists of all the members of the distributive education classes at Lexington High School. The 1963-64 officers were: Jerry Fix, president; Chris Graff, vice-president; Edmond Hardbarger, secretary; Roger Conner, treasurer; Vernon Hughes, parliamentarian and John Rhondenizer, promotion manager.

The D. E. Club sponsored several activities this year, including a float for the Christmas Parade, participation in District contests, and the Employer-Employee Banquet. The D.E. Club also offers a small scholarship each year for a deserving D.E. student in order to continue his education in retailing.

F.H.A. Encourages Self-Improvement

Members try out new recipes in the home economics kitchen.

The goal of the Future Homemakers is to help individuals improve personal, family, and community living. To achieve this goal the club chose several objectives to work toward this year. These objectives were, You and Your Values; Stay in School; and, in co-operation with the state project, Keep Virginia Green.

The activities for the year included such things as a "Sweetheart Swirl" dance, a Mother-Daughter Banquet, a panel discussion on the subject, "Values you hold may be different from the ones you practice," and a "Keep Virginia Beautiful" campaign in the club and school.

President Clara Lee Tolley serves punch at club function.

Mr. Glick advises FFA members on projects

The officers for the 1963-64 F.F.A. were: Ronnie Plott, president; Robert Williamson, vice-president; Danny Goodbar, secretary; Benny Zollman, treasurer; David Tardy, reporter; Joe Clemmer, sentinel; and Mr. Glick was the Club's advisor.

The Effinger Chapter of the Future Farmers of America is one of five chapters which make up the Millrock Federation. Danny Goodbar, the Effinger Chapter's secretary, also held the office of president of the Millrock Federation.

The Effinger Chapter took part in several Federation contests. These contests were in forestry management and tree identification, farm mechanics, soil, public speaking, and livestock judging.

This year the club improved their shop by installing an electrical demonstration cabinet. They also distributed 500 calendars. The highlight of the year was the Father and Son Banquet.

Members decorate goal posts before a home football game.

President Leslie Barger.

The object of the Pep Squad is to promote school spirit. Among other activities, this group decorates the football field during the season, for all home games and makes posters to encourage attendance.

During homecoming weekend, the cheerleaders and Pep Squad sponsored the traditional pep rally. This pep rally consisted of a procession from the school to the State Theatre, where cheers were performed and the movie, "Beach Party" was seen for half the usual price.

The officers for 1963-64 were: Leslie Barger, president; Larry Whiteside, vice-president; and Casey Carter, secretary-treasurer.

Monogram Club Holds Car Wash

The Monogram Club is open to all boys who have earned their varsity letter in football, basketball, baseball or track. During basketball season, the Monogram Club operated a concession stand at all the home games. With the money made from this project, the club bought letters for the members and miniature gold footballs for the Senior football lettermen. Although the concession stand was the club's main project, they also sponsored a car wash at a local gas station in the spring.

The advisor of this group was Coach Stuart Brewbaker. Officers for 1963-64 were: Brud Waddell, president; Earl Edwards, president elect; and Mike Claytor, secretary-treasurer.

The Lexington High School Band participated in many of the school's activities this year. During marching season the twenty-five band members and five majorettes performed half-time shows and produced spirited music at football games and marched in many local parades.

During concert season the band participated in concerts, assembly programs, festival competitions and All-District-Band. This year the school band was represented at All-District-Band by Janice Tolley, James Bennetch and Charles Spencer.

The majorettes are Nancy Sorrells, Marlene Higgins, and Teresa Mutterpaw.

ALMA MATER

Oh, Alma Mater we will sing
Of all our memories through the years.
They will ever to us bring
Joys and sorrows, hopes and fears.
Through all our work the road we pave
as colors loyally do wave.
Hail, to thee dear Lexington
Our true devotion you have won!
Oh, Alma Mater we will raise
Our songs of triumph to thy name.
They will ever bring thee praise,
All our labors bring thee fame.
Our Motto, "Labor Conquers All",
Through all our lives we shall recall.
Hail, to thee dear Lexington
Our true devotion you have won!

The glee club presents Christmas program during a school assembly

This year the Lexington High School Chorus composed the words for the Alma Mater using the music to "Carmen Ohio," participated in a Christmas musical, performed in concerts, wrote and presented a May Day, sang in several assemblies, lead in group singing and represented the school at festival competitions and All-District-Chorus. Several soloists participated in talent shows. Linda Brown, Cheryl Lackey, Dee Joyce and Mike Claytor were chosen to represent our chorus at All-District-Chorus.

Cheerleaders exhibit high spirits at football game.

The varsity cheerleaders' main responsibility is to support the varsity football and basketball teams and to maintain the support of the students for these teams. Although the cheerleaders cheer only for the varsity football and basketball squads, their duty does not end here. School spirit must be increased, the varsity baseball and track teams must be supported, and the interest of the students must be built up and maintained. These are but a few of the things the varsity cheerleaders strive to accomplish. Betty Dobyns, as head cheerleader for 1963-64, led the cheerleaders in this work.
